A Message from the Lord Mayor of Adelaide

Welcome to Adelaide City Council's new Disability Access Guide.

The City of Adelaide prides itself on being a livable city and Council strongly believes that people with disabilities should have equitable access to the city's buildings, facilities and services.

Council is committed to improving accessibility and strives continually to improve its services for people with disabilities.

This guide provides information and maps to help you access the City of Adelaide and enjoy all it has to offer. I hope it proves an invaluable resource!

Council welcomes feedback on this guide, so if you have any thoughts you would like to share, please email us at city@adelaidecitycouncil.com

Stephen Yarwood
LORD MAYOR

A Resident's View of Accessible Adelaide

'Adelaide is a great place for people with disabilities to get around. Whatever you want to do is close by.'

'We're lucky that Adelaide is fairly flat which makes it easy for a manual wheelchair to get around. Rundle Mall, many arcades and streets have reasonably wide footpaths that make for ease of movement throughout the city.'

'Most theatres, cinemas, markets, cafes and restaurants cater for people with disabilities. If you wish to travel out of the city there are plenty of ways to get around using trams, buses, trains or wheelchair taxis.'

'It always pays to explore your options before going anywhere and this can be done through your hotel or tourist information centre or by following the information in this guide.'

'I'm proud to be a resident of Adelaide and hope that you will come to find how easy it is to fit in and have fun in my city. Give it a go!'

1. THE ACCESS ADELAIDE GUIDE

Using the Access Adelaide Guide

This guide includes information for people with disabilities to get to Adelaide; to travel in and around the city; and to find places to enjoy. It also includes contact details for organisations with further information.

Readers can also now customise the guide and print just those sections they need for their visit. Information directly relevant to people with disabilities is provided in the first half of the guide. The second half lists general services, attractions, festivals and things we recommend you see and do while you are in Adelaide.

People from around Australia have contributed their ideas about what they look for before visiting a city and we thank them for the contributions that have shaped this guide.

Suggestions, changes and corrections to improve this guide are always welcome. Please contact Adelaide City Council on (08) 8203 7203 or email us at city@adelaidecitycouncil.com

People with a hearing, speech or communication impairment and with access to a Teletypewriter (TTY) or internet access can communicate with the Adelaide City Council by asking for the customer service number (08) 8203 7203 via the following methods:

- TTY - phone toll free: 133 677
- Speak and Listen – phone: 1300 555 727
- National Relay Service - connect to: iprelay.com.au/call/index.aspx

Accessible Adelaide

Scramble Crossings

Adelaide has a number of busy street intersections where pedestrians on all corners walk across at once, in any direction. If you have vision impairment, you may wish to get some practice or training from orientation and mobility instructors about the best way to cross safely at these scramble crossings, sometimes also referred to as 'barn dance' corners.

Pedestrian Activated Traffic Signals

At street corners with lights, pedestrians will find a button with a raised directional arrow making a slow beeping sound. Pushing below the arrow tells the light sequence that a pedestrian wants to cross. There is a symbol of the walking man in green and a fast clacking sound to indicate when it is OK to go. The arrow symbol will vibrate when it is OK to go for people who get their safety information by touch. These buttons are found on tall traffic poles and also on half poles.

Safe Laneway Crossings

Adelaide City Council has created ground surface signals for people with vision impairment about to cross a laneway or vehicle exit point from a public footpath. A band of tactile ground surface indicators tiles with circular bumps, span both sides of the footpath to warn of a change of slope, a ramp, a step, the edge of a transport platform, or to indicate you are entering traffic.

Braille Signage

In a partnership with the Guide Dogs SA.NT and the Royal Society for the Blind, the Adelaide City Council has installed Braille pedestrian signs at the Currie, Grenfell and King William Street intersection.

Consisting of both large letters and Braille, the signs are located on traffic signal poles at each corner of the intersection. The signage will be monitored and reviewed with the view of installing more signs at other city locations in the near future.

Hearing Assistance

People who use hearing aids can access extra or augmented sound levels in places that display this sign. If you are making a booking for a venue, ask if they have hearing assistance and where it is located so that you can book these seats. At the venue, switch your hearing aid to 'T' (Telecoil). If an FM or infrared system is used, discreet headsets or lanyards offer similar clear hearing opportunities.

Public Volume Controlled and TTY Phones

Many public phones are available at accessible heights and have volume control. Adelaide also has a number of TTY telephones (teletypewriter phones) for people who use typing instead of speech to communicate. These phones are available at:

- TAFE SA, City Campus, Level 1, 120 Currie Street, Adelaide
- Charles Street Plaza, below David Jones in Rundle Mall (Charles Street entrance)
- Adelaide Festival Centre, foyer, King William Street, Adelaide
- Royal Adelaide Hospital, Emergency Department, North Terrace, Adelaide
- Women's and Children's Hospital, Main Entrance, ground floor foyer, Kermode Street, North Adelaide

2. TRANSPORT

Travelling to Adelaide

Adelaide is a friendly, relaxed and environmentally conscious city. With beautiful stone buildings and wide boulevards surrounded by expansive parklands, the central business district is easy to navigate and features many attractions all within walking distance.

Adelaide Airport: Facilities and Services

1 James Schofield Drive, Adelaide Airport

Phone: (08) 8308 9211

Website: adelaideairport.com.au/air-travel/passengers/special-needs

Adelaide Airport is a 15-minute drive west of the city. It is the major gateway for international, domestic and regional air carriers.

Before you arrive

If you need assistance to move around the terminal (on a people mover), to check in, or carry your baggage, please contact the airline in advance of your arrival.

Facilities inside the airport

Information on the location of the airport's accessibility features is available from an interactive directory and way-finding boards located in the central retail area past Security. Volunteer Airport Ambassadors, who wear maroon coloured jackets with a dark skirt or pants, may also be able to answer questions or provide assistance.

Please Note:

- lower check-in counters are available for people using a wheelchair
- some check-in counters have a Counter Hearing System
- male and female public toilets have ambulant cubicles
- unisex accessible toilets are available throughout the terminal

Travelling to the city

Taxis to the city are managed by concierges who can request a wheelchair accessible taxi. There may however be a wait as the city's 90 access taxis are often busy at school transport times. It is therefore advisable to book ahead on 1300 360 940 (service available 24 hours a day, 7 days a week).

The public bus stop is on the upper level at the southern end of the terminal and is served by a mixture of accessible and non-accessible buses.

Pick up/drop off areas are found at both ground and upper levels. Ramps are available from road to the pavement in certain locations. Clearly signed disability parking - both short and long term - is located near the entrances for cars that display the Australian disability parking permit. Transport from the long term car park is available on an accessible shuttle bus.

Airlines

Qantas

Phone: 131 313 (domestic and International); 131 223 (flight arrivals)

Website: qantas.com.au

Qantas offers many services to passengers with disabilities, details of which are on the Specific Needs tab of its website (see above). Customers who have a hearing or speech impairment can also call Qantas via the National Relay Service 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.

Qantas advises passengers to mention their support needs when booking flights and to give details of any mobility or medical equipment which will be carried, or may be required, in-flight. Passengers also need to mention any dietary requirements when booking and if they are on medication. Please ensure you carry the medication needed for your trip in your cabin baggage.

Customers with high-level support needs who require the full-time assistance of a carer while they are seated on a plane are eligible to apply for a Qantas Carer Concession card. This card entitles cardholders to a 50 per cent discount off full price business class domestic airfares, 20 per cent off full price economy domestic airfares, or 10 per cent off the majority of domestic discounted airfares (except red-e-deals). The carer needs to be nominated when the flight is booked. The Qantas Carer Concession card is a photo ID card that is valid for three years. Contact NICAN: 1800 806 760 or nican.com.au/service/qantas. The State-issued Travel Pass for Person with Vision Impairment can also be used to gain this concession.

Virgin Australia

Phone: 136 789 for reservations and enquiries

Website: virginaustralia.com

Virgin Australia offers a 'Meet and Assist' service for people with disabilities and can accommodate a limited number of wheelchairs on its aircraft. Virgin can prearrange a wheelchair if customers need transport within the airport and can also assist with baggage collection. Trained assistance animals are welcome with appropriate documentation.

Several services are available for guests with hearing or visual impairments including tactile/braille and large print safety instruction manuals. Please ask for these in advance. Virgin does not currently offer any concessions for accompanying carers.

Jetstar

Phone: 131 538 (reservations); (08) 8341 4901 (enquiries)

Website: jetstar.com.au

Jetstar provides special assistance services to customers who need to travel with a guide dog, hearing or mobility dog; customers who require a wheelchair; and customers who require two seats. Jetstar does not offer assistance with luggage and does not offer concession rates for attendants or carers.

Car Rental Companies

Avis

Phone: 136 333 (enquiries and reservations); (08) 8154 2444 Ext. 2 (Adelaide Airport)

Website: avis.com.au

Avis will fit the Monarch hand control (right hand operation) to Commodore vehicles. Please book at least one month in advance.

Hertz

Phone: 133 039

Website: hertz.com.au

Hertz has a push-pull hand control (right hand operation) on an automatic Toyota Camry vehicle. Please book at least three days in advance.

Adelaide Park Lands Train Terminal

Great Southern Rail

Phone: 1300 132 147

Website: greatsouthernrail.com.au

All interstate trains operated by Great Southern Rail arrive at the Adelaide Park Lands Train Terminal, located just west of the city between Richmond Road and Sir Donald Bradman Drive. The Ghan from Darwin, the Overland from Melbourne and the Indian Pacific from Perth/Sydney arrive at this accessible station. Station staff can assist with boarding and disembarking, and can bring meals to cabins if pre arranged.

From the Adelaide Park Lands Train Terminal there is no accessible rail linkage to Adelaide's suburban train system. Nearby Keswick Station has stairs as its only entry/exit access. Skylink Adelaide runs mini-buses from the airport to this terminal but do not provide lifts or hoists.

Access Cabs provide door-to-door transport from the station to your destination. Phone: 1300 360 940 (service available 24 hours a day, 7 days a week).

Discuss your travel requirements with staff at Great Southern Rail at the time of booking, including your need for an onboard wheelchair, whether you are travelling with or without a carer, and any other requirements. The Overland has a large accessible carriage for easy day travel between Melbourne and Adelaide. The Adelaide Park Lands Terminal is fully accessible with a LH unisex accessible toilet, accessible telephone and ATM in addition to a cafe bar, ticket sales and tour booking.

Public Transport

Accredited Assistance Animals (hearing and guide dogs), are permitted to accompany a person with a disability on all Adelaide Metro bus, train and tram services. The person in charge of the hearing or guide dog is required to hold a valid Metro ticket and/or concession card for their journey. Hearing and guide dogs travel for free. For more information contact the Dog and Cat Management Board, phone: (08) 8124 4975.

Adelaide Metro InfoCentre and InfoLine

Corner of King William Street and Currie Street, Adelaide

Phone: InfoLine 1300 311 108, TTY (08) 8303 0844

Website: adelaidemetro.com.au to download printable timetables or adelaidemetro.com.au/accessibility for access information.

Timetables for Adelaide's bus, train and tram services can be obtained from the Adelaide Metro InfoCentre. The centre is fitted with counter hearing system handsets. Alternatively, timetable information is available via the phone on the InfoLine or the website (above).

InfoLine available: 7.00am–8.00pm daily, except Christmas Day 7:00am–1:00pm. On New Year's Eve the call centre is open from 7:00am on 31 December to 8:00pm on 1 January.

InfoCentre opening hours: Monday to Friday 8:00am–6:00pm, Saturday 9:00am–5:00pm, Sunday 11:00am–4:00pm. Closed public holidays

Metropolitan Trains

All Adelaide metropolitan trains are wheelchair-accessible and fitted with ramps for easy boarding and disembarking. Passengers with disabilities requiring assistance must board at the front end of the train. All trains arrive at the centrally located Adelaide Railway Station that links with the city's accessible free tram and bus services. Red seats in trains, trams and buses indicate priority seating for people with disabilities and older people.

Adelaide Railway Station

The Adelaide Railway Station, located on North Terrace next to Parliament House, is the central station for all Adelaide metropolitan trains.

Buying a ticket

The ticket office is fitted with counter hearing assist handsets and accessible height windows with a grab rail and the ticket vending machines have accessible features.

Boarding the train

All platforms have level access to railcars and tactile ground surface indicators along the length of the platform to warn vision impaired travellers of the platform edge. To board using a wheelchair, please notify the driver who can use a portable folding ramp to transfer you safely onto the train.

On the Train

Look for the allocated space marked with the international symbol of disability on the floor. For people with ambulant disabilities, look for the red seats for priority seating.

- a brightly signed wide gate is available if you are using a mobility aid to enter or leave the concourse
- the first toilet when you leave the concourse is a large unisex accessible toilet with right hand transfer and a sharps container
- a raised tactile/braille layout of the station is available at the end of each set of benches
- an audio information directory of routes and timetables of Adelaide's train services is available
- an accessible lift with raised tactile/braille buttons can be used to access North Terrace
- there is a steep ramp to the Parliament House corner, which has a brass handrail, but the lift is recommended
- there is an accessible underpass to the other side of North Terrace, where you will find accessible lifts

City Trams

Adelaide's trams have low floors and are accessible to people with disabilities. They have large double doors for easy boarding and disembarking and priority seating red seats. 'Next stop' information is via voice announcement and LED displays are located at the front and back of each tram.

Stops along the tram route enable people with disabilities to board easily, but if needed, the driver can flip a ramp to the platform. Push the button to notify the driver before the stop you want to disembark.

Tram journeys are free between South Terrace along King William Street, North Terrace and the Entertainment Centre on Port Road. Fares must be paid for trips from South Terrace to Jetty Road, Glenelg, the hub of one of Adelaide's finest beach and recreation districts. Tram stops have bench seats, lighting for night safety, rubbish bins and timetable information.

Metropolitan Buses

Many of the Adelaide Metro bus routes are fully accessible, including:

- all Adelaide FREE 99C buses
- all services along Henley Beach Road and The Parade, Norwood
- all J2 services travelling from Greenwith, Golden Grove , Tea Tree Plaza via the O-Bahn to the city then via Sir Donald Bradman Drive to the airport
- 701 and 702 Southern Circuit buses linking Woodcroft, Noarlunga Centre and Colonnades

For further information on when and where wheelchair-accessible buses run please contact the Adelaide Metro InfoCentre.

Free Public Transport

99C Bus

Website: adelaidemetro.com.au/routes/cityservices.html or adelaidemetro.com.au/assets/pdfs/CBDmap-160111.pdf for accessibility information.

The Adelaide Metro FREE City Loop 99C bus is fully accessible and operates 7 days a week.

- low floors to make getting on and off the bus easier
- a ramp for easy access (including wheelchair access) through the buses' central doors
- an allocated space for people using mobility aids
- bright yellow handrails to assist people with a vision impairment
- video monitors and brochure displays to promote Adelaide's attractions and major events

Adelaide Connector Bus

Website: cityofadelaide.com.au/get-around/adelaide-connector-bus.html

The Adelaide Connector service runs three buses, including Tindo, the world's first solar-powered electric bus. The white, older style Connector Bus requires you enter at the rear left side of the bus via an electric lift.

This free Adelaide City Council bus service travels to major facilities in the city and in North Adelaide. The service links shopping precincts, community centres, libraries, hospitals, universities and schools and is used by both residents and visitors. Look for the Connector Bus logo on public transport poles for where to board. Wheelchair accessible buses are occasionally unavailable, contact the Adelaide City Council Customer Service Centre.

The service runs Monday to Thursday 8:00am-6:00pm, Friday 8:00am-9:30pm, Saturday and Sunday 10:00am-5:00pm. Timetables are available on the website (above).

Adelaide Assist Shuttle

People mover vehicles travel along Rundle Mall on weekday mornings to help people with ambulant disabilities. Drop-off points include the Myer Centre, David Jones, Richmond Hotel, Renaissance Building, Regent Arcade, Adelaide Arcade, the Gawler Place canopy and James Place. You can also request a drop off at other locations in the Mall.

The service runs Monday to Friday 9:00am-12 noon (excluding public holidays).

Free City Bikes

Website: cityofadelaide.com.au/get-around/bike.html

Anyone with a current driver's licence or passport can access a free Adelaide City Council City Bike and helmet for the day. The free City Bikes are available from various collection points throughout cycling friendly Adelaide. Check the website (above) for locations.

Taxis

There are many taxi ranks throughout the city and North Adelaide, or you may choose to hail a driver from the footpath. As with the South Australian Transport Subsidy Scheme for people with permanent and severe disabilities, all interstate equivalents can be used to travel in taxis in Adelaide. Present your card to your driver to receive the nominated discount.

Managed Taxi Ranks

Some taxi ranks are supervised by qualified Taxi Council concierges and security personnel on Friday and Saturday nights between 11:00pm and approximately 4:30am. These ranks are located at the North Terrace entrance to Sky City Casino and on the southeastern corner of Morphett and Hindley streets in the city.

Access Cabs

Phone: 1300 360 940, TTY (08) 8202 1256

Access Cabs cater for passengers with mobility difficulties or disabilities, particularly those using wheelchairs or other mobility aids. The purpose-built vehicles are fitted with hydraulic lifts that enable passengers in wheelchairs and scooters to sit safely and securely. Over 90 wheelchair-accessible taxis operate in the Adelaide metropolitan area.

The fleet includes taxis that can carry single wheelchairs and vans that can carry two or three wheelchairs and their passengers. Accessible taxis can be booked 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. They are available for group travel and also handy if you have a lot of luggage.

There are two dedicated drop-off and pick-up zones for Access Cabs - one is in the Gawler Place taxi rank on the North Terrace side of Rundle Mall, the other is near the Commonwealth Bank on the corner of Pulteney Street and Rundle Mall.

Mobility Support Initiatives

The following mobility support passes are available only to permanent South Australian residents with disabilities.

Mobility Pass

The Department for Transport, Energy and Infrastructure's Mobility Pass is available to people who are unable to validate a ticket using on-board equipment due to a physical or cognitive impairment, including an intellectual disability, dementia, an acquired brain injury or another disability.

The Mobility Pass entitles the holder to unlimited travel/transfers on all Adelaide Metro bus, train and tram services for a month. The pass is free, however the validating sticker must be purchased every month.

The Mobility Pass must be carried when travelling on all Adelaide Metro bus, train and tram services and shown to the driver when boarding to exempt the holder from having to validate their ticket.

An application form for a Mobility Pass can be obtained from the Adelaide Metro InfoCentre. A medical practitioner or a qualified professional from an aged, disability or care support agency must certify the applicant's inability to use the ticketing and validation system.

Companion Card

Phone: 1800 667 110

Website: sa.companioncard.asn.au

A Companion Card is issued to people with a permanent disability who require attendant care support. The card allows a companion to enter free of charge to participating venues and activities. The card incorporates polymer technology used to produce Australian 'plastic' bank notes and has a photo identifying the cardholder. In South Australia, the Companion Card is free and is valid for five years.

Travel Pass for a Person with Vision Impairment

This travel pass entitles people with a vision impairment to unlimited, free travel on Adelaide Metro bus, train and tram services and must be produced immediately to any authorised person, upon request. An application form can be obtained from the Adelaide Metro InfoCentre.

The applicant must provide their personal details, certification of residency and verification of their vision impairment. A medical certificate can be obtained from an ophthalmologist, optometrist or a medical practitioner. The doctor's details need to be included on the application form.

Plus One FREE COMPANION Card

The Plus One FREE COMPANION Card is designed to assist people with a physical mobility, or a cognitive, sensory or communication impairment, who cannot safely use public transport on their own, but who can do so with the assistance of a companion. The card also assists people who cannot travel independently at certain times (e.g. at night) or on unfamiliar routes, but who can otherwise travel independently on public transport.

The card holder must have a valid Metroticket and concession card to enable their companion to travel for free.

To apply for a Plus One FREE COMPANION Card an 'Application for Transport Assistance' form can be obtained from the Adelaide Metro InfoCentre. The card is issued by the Department for Families and Communities (DFC) and co-managed by DFC and National Disability Services, South Australian Division.

Incapacitated Ex-Service Personnel

Website: adelaidemetro.com.au/accessibility

War veterans holding a Totally and Incapacitated Personnel pass, Intermediate Rate, Extreme Disablement Adjustment or 100% and over of the Department of Veterans' Affairs General Rate Disability Pension are entitled to travel for free on all Adelaide Metro bus, train and tram services.

South Australia Transport Subsidy Scheme (SATSS)

Website: taxicouncilsa.com.au/taxi_services_safety_SATSS.htm

The South Australia Transport Subsidy Scheme is a State Government subsidised taxi travel program. The scheme is aimed to assist people with permanent and severe disabilities who, because of their disabilities, cannot safely use public transport either independently or when accompanied by a companion. Approved members of the scheme are given personalised vouchers for subsidised taxi travel on a six monthly basis.

Parking

Australian Disability Parking Permits

Phone: 131 084

Website: disabilityparking.gov.au

Australian Disability Parking Permits enable eligible people to park nearer to their destination. Information about these permits can be obtained from sa.gov.au and search for “disability parking”. Permits must be hung from the rear view mirror of your car, while parked in an on-street disability parking bay. Permits must be removed from the mirror while the vehicle is moving.

On-Street Accessible Parking Bays

Adelaide City Council has many designated on-street parking bays throughout the city for people with disabilities. These parks are shown on the maps in this guide and are usually marked on the street with the parking international disability symbol. In the designated disability parking bays, the stated parking time limit applies.

UPark Accessibility Pass

The Adelaide City Council owned UParks have accessible spaces located near the lifts. Holders of SA Disability Parking Permits can apply to UPark for an Accessibility Pass. This pass provides 2 hours free parking up to 52 times per year at all UPark car parks. This pass supersedes any other disabled parking discount previously available at UPark. Check the website for details on applying for a UPark Accessibility Pass: upark.com.au

Playgrounds and Park Lands

Website: adelaidecitycouncil.com/environment/park-lands.html

Adelaide is the only city in the world to be surrounded by a system of parks. This ring of Park Lands, together with the intact city plan dating from 1837, defines the city and is a National Heritage Place. A number of Park Land areas and gardens can be easily accessed by those with restricted mobility.

The Park Lands Trail circles the city with smooth and safe, low-traffic paths through scenic parks and the River Torrens with many resting spots from which to enjoy the views. The trail also winds through playgrounds and other places of interest, including the West Terrace Cemetery. The trail is suitable for basic riders, family groups and mobility aid users and is surfaced with a distinctive ochre colour. For a map of the trail go to : cityofadelaide.com.au/recreation/park-lands/park-lands-trail.html

The Adelaide City Council has an ongoing commitment to provide and maintain safe and attractive playgrounds that are accessible to people and children with limited mobility. The following playgrounds and gardens have features such as unisex accessible toilets, as well as accessible parking and pathways. Some of these playgrounds also feature accessible play equipment. Most playgrounds have childproof gates with opening devices that people using wheelchairs may find hard to reach independently.
